The image displays four distinct anatomical representations of the human body, arranged horizontally. From left to right: 1) A white line drawing of the human skeleton, showing the skull, ribcage, spine, and limb bones. 2) A realistic illustration of a male human figure with detailed musculature in shades of brown and orange. 3) A diagram of the human circulatory system, with blue lines representing oxygenated blood flow and red lines representing deoxygenated blood flow. 4) A diagram of the human digestive system, showing the internal organs in green and yellow tones.
